Personalize Your Website Message

Your friends and family want to know why you're shaving your head – tell them, in your own words, what it means to you to be helping kids with cancer.

To help kids fighting cancer, I'm a volunteer with the St. Baldrick's Foundation. Please support me! With head-shaving and other fundraising events, this volunteer-driven charity funds more in childhood cancer research grants than any organization except the U. S. government. Your gift will give hope to infants, children, teens and young adults fighting childhood cancers. So when I ask for your support, I'm really asking you to support these kids. Thank you! Click "Make a donation" to give online, or donate by phone or mail.

Shave in honor of a child with cancer

You don't have to know a child with cancer personally to shave in their honor. If a child's story is meaningful to you, you can choose to include their picture and story on your webpage and your friends and family will better understand why you're shaving. Already know a child? Search for them below.

You aren't honoring any kids yet; choose one from below.

Brandon McDonald
 Age 25 - Murrieta, CA
 Acute lymphoblastic leukemia (ALL)
Tanner S.
 Age 0 - Temecula, CA
 Acute myeloid leukemia (AML)
William D.
 Age 13 - North Hills, CA
 Other childhood cancer
Joey Mooney
 Age 19 - Roseville, CA
 Ewing sarcoma
Pietro P.

If you choose to Honor one or more kids you can do so at this time or choose to do this at a later. Click 'Next' when finished.
